For Every Child Campaign

Did you know that research has linked the study of performing arts to improved child development and higher academic achievement? Several findings have shown children who study music, dance, and drama are more proficient in reading, writing, and mathematics. Other studies demonstrate that children who are exposed to performing arts are happier, more engaged, and enjoy going to school — all of which contribute to future success. Skills learned through involvement in the arts can be transferred to any subject, developing well-rounded individuals who can tackle anything sent their way.

Our performing arts program here at Holy Trinity is such a gift to our students. Having access to the beautiful, historic Eifler Theater allows our program the opportunity to give students experiences they might not otherwise have. We are eager to complete renovations to improve this space where our students will continue to develop skills to carry with them throughout their lives. Thank you for supporting our For Every Child campaign and our mission to serve more children in our community!

Saint of the Week

St. Charles Borromeo (1538 - 1584) is most known for living during the time of the Protestant Reformation and helped influence reform of the whole Church during the final years of the Council of Trent.

Although St. Charles Borromeo belonged to nobility, he greatly desired to serve the Church. In 1559, his uncle was elected Pope Pius IV. He made Charles cardinal-deacon and administrator of the Archdiocese of Milan. At the time, Charles was a simple student, but because of his intellectual qualities, he was assigned several important offices connected with the Vatican. After the death of his brother, he decided to become a priest and was ordained at age 25. Soon after he became bishop of Milan.

Quietly working behind the scenes, St. Charles Borromeo is credited with keeping the Council of Trent in session and encouraging the pope to renew the Council in 1562, after its 10-year suspension. Afterwards, he devoted his time to serving in the Archdiocese of Milan.

Among his most important actions during his life, St. Charles Borromeo established seminaries, colleges, and communities for the education of candidates for holy orders. His emphasis on Catholic learning greatly increased the preparation of men for the priesthood and benefited their congregations. He died at the age of 46.

Thirty-First Sunday in Ordinary Time

“You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, with all your soul, with all your mind, and with all your strength.” Mark 12:30

True stewardship is other-directed. The question a steward always tries to answer is: “What is the best way I can show my love for this neighbor?”

We encourage you to prepare yourself for next weekend's liturgy by reading and praying the scriptures. The readings for the 32nd Sunday of Ordinary Time, November 7, 2021: Kings 17:10-16; Hebrews 9:24-28; Mark 12:38-44.
